Hamilton Engineering

Hot water supply systems design

Hamilton Engineering has one goal in mind: to provide your self service laundry with the most cost-effective and maintenance-free water heating system available. Hamilton Engineering is recognized as a pioneer in the laundry water heating industry. We provide unique, high quality products combined with engineering, design, installation and maintenance support.

Experience has proven that correctly sized and installed systems reduce operating expenses and frequent, costly replacements.

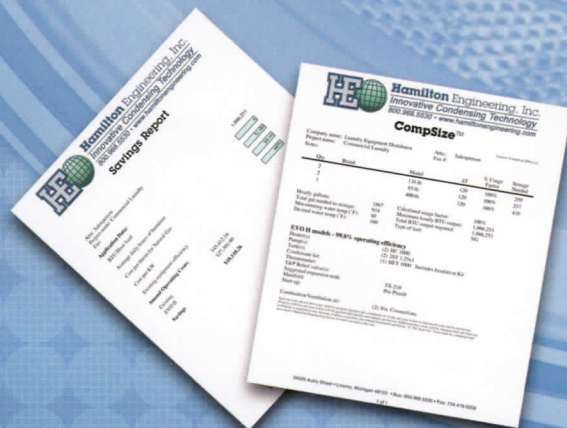

Energy Savings

- Hamilton's family of high efficiency water heaters range from 81% to 99.8% efficient, providing energy savings for every budget
- We have the capability to replace existing equipment for increased efficiency and substantially reduced operating expenses
- Call us today with your current fuel bill to see what you can save!

CompSize™

Hamilton's proprietary CompSize™ program ensures accurate system sizing and design. With the information you provide, we promptly calculate and analyze your water heating and softening equipment needs to provide you with the following:

- Pricing for multiple system configurations, matching our systems to your budget
- Operating cost and savings analysis
- Sizings based on washer manufacturer's specifications and actual water consumption, not "rules of thumb"
